SYNODALITY TRAINING COURSE

Theological and
Pastoral Formation

The formation of the laity and the evangelization of professional and intellectual life represent a significant pastoral challenge.

EG 102

OBJECTIVE

At a time of Church synodal reform, this course offers a wide-ranging theological and pastoral formation, aimed at helping the Christian community in the exercise of thinking and acting in communion.

METHOD

In its lectures and workshops, the course will be shaped around "Synodal" dynamics fostering interaction among students as well as among lecturers and students. Its horizons will be interdisciplinary and intercultural and it will offer a range of lived experiences of synodality in action.

WHO

Presbyters, deacons, religious, consecrated women, pastoral workers, laymen and women engaged in building a synodal
