

Ancestral Grace

Who do you think you are?

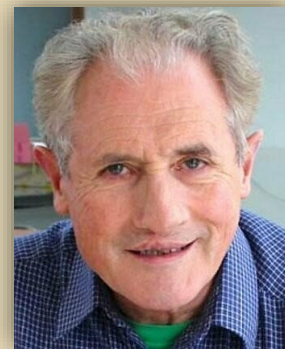

Diarmuid O'Murchu invites us to ponder our ancestral connections. He believes that knowing our biological, familial and cultural ancestors can empower us to understand ourselves better.

He also urges us to consider a broader understanding of our ancestry in light of the inspiring discoveries about humankind's common origins, spiritual journeys and deep entanglement.

PRESENTER: Diarmuid O'Murchu

Diarmuid O'Murchu is internationally known for writing some of the most cutting-edge books in science and religion over the past ten years. A member of the Sacred Heart Missionary Order, Diarmuid is a social psychologist who has worked with AIDS patients, homeless people and refugees throughout the world. He is in high demand as a speaker on all continents. His many books include Quantum Theology, Evolutionary Faith and The Transformation of Desire.

To drop into being means to become interconnected with all life, and with Being itself.

You might like to bring a photo or memory of one or more of your ancestors to the session.

Our family tree extends back for five to seven million years to the time when our ancestors took their first two-legged steps on the path toward becoming human.
